The ghost story

Last weekend my friends, Lucy, Jonathan and I went on our first camping trip without our parents. We spent the day setting up our big blue tent. For the night we brought sausages that we wanted to grill over a campfire. Because there was not enough wood left, we had to look for some in the forest. It was dark already so it was a little frightening. That is why we hurried to get back to start the fire. While we were eating our sausages Jonathan started to tell us a story about a ghost haunting a castle near the campsite. It went like this:...

Once upon a time...
